Donna Osborne is straightforward, honest and approachable. Clients appreciate her ability to quickly assess their business situation, and gather useful information to find areas of financial improvement. Donna asks the right questions, believes in future and forward planning with clients, and takes the time to tailor the message to the appropriate audiences. With a practice focused on governmental units and the agribusiness industry, she has extensive experience with tax planning, compliance and financial reporting.

As a lifetime resident of El Centro, Donna is familiar with the people, area and culture. She joined Hutchinson and Bloodgood in 1996 and was elected Partner in 2009. Donna is a member of the firm's Accounting and Auditing Committee.

Donna is involved with various organizations including the Firm's Accounting and Auditing Committee, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the California Society of CPAs, and was the Past President of the El Centro Regional Medical Center's Foundation.

Donna earned a Bachelor of Science in Accounting, Cum Laude, from San Diego State University.
