Scott Suekawa is highly skilled at combining technology, accounting and business strategy to help small and medium size companies become more efficient and more profitable. With more than 12 years of experience with ERP software systems and managing complex projects, Scott excels at collaborating with clients and finding the appropriate ERP and IT solutions to fulfill their financial, distribution and manufacturing needs. Clients value Scott's project management skills, as he quickly assesses the situation, reviews current systems, and presents suitable technology solutions that fit company culture and business requirements.

Prior to joining Hutchinson and Bloodgood LLP, Scott worked in public accounting as an auditor and obtained his CPA license. He joined the Firm in 2001, and was elected Partner in 2010.

Scott is involved with the community and various organizations including the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Scott earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from San Diego State University and a Master of Business Administration from Pepperdine Graziadio School of Business.
